What is the Importance of GREAT BARRINGTON - HERE & GONE

Authored by Bernie Drew from his research for the G.B.H.C.

A core strategic goal of the Great Barrington Historical Commission is to present programs that heighten public appreciation of the town's rich architectural and historical resources. With the issuance of this comprehensive study document that are no longer known, Bernard A. Drew has achieved this goal but not without the loss of many structures, artifacts, and history. A record of this history, beyond recognition, can only engender decisions about the future of our built environment.

— from the Foreword, Paul W. Ivory, Great Barrington Historical Commission
