

“Growing Better Great Barrington” COMMUNITY FORUMS

Online: Thursday February 3, 6:30pm - 8:00pm

and

Online: Thursday March 3, 2:30 - 4:00pm

Growing Better Great Barrington aims to develop a food system plan with practical recommendations to enhance climate resilience, environmental sustainability and community food security.

A core principle of the project is that it be informed by a participatory stakeholder engagement process. We intend to guide this first conversation around visioning for community food security in a resilient future, identifying obstacles and possible solutions, and start resource mapping in this group. The second meeting will be based on the outcomes from the first meeting and the research that the Conway students are carrying out in February.

What is your vision more a more sustainable, equitable food system in Great Barrington? Can you or another representative of your organization join us?

Please click the following link to register, which will automatically generate a Zoom link for participation.

https://us06web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZAqdO-vqTkjGtXUc6Pq_SVm6jbQZDPQwSyU

We look forward to joining with you in this essential and timely discussion!

All the best,

The Grow Better Great Barrington Core Team

(Chris Rembold, Vivian Orlowski, Luke Pryjma, Jovanina Pagano, John Morrell)