Special Permit Public Hearing for A&A Memorials, Inc., 57 Van Deusenville Road

Rembold read the public hearing advertisement. He noted the Board made a site visit this evening before the meeting.

Ivory moved to open the public hearing. Wise seconded. All were in favor.

Richard Atwood, Owner of A&A Memorials was represented by Attorney Lori Robbins. Ms. Robbins presented the application which included a summary of the nonconforming use status of the property, which she said has light industrial uses including welding and metal fabrication since the 1970s, when the area was zoned Industrial. She also presented affidavits from previous site occupants and employees as to what types of uses operated at the site and when. She also presented an overview of the services Mr. Atwood’s company provides at the site, including stone fabrication, and why these are in keeping with previous uses.

Meagher asked about other uses on the site and whether they were permitted on the site. Board members decided that the present discussion was only relevant to the applicant’s proposal, and other businesses are not included in this decision.

Rembold noted the parcel also appears to be non-conforming with respect to frontage and setback from a property line, so future changes or additions to structures on it may require zoning relief. He said this decision about the use is distinct from the dimensional nonconformities.

Chair Majdalany called for public comment.

Michelle Loubert of Division Street said she does not have concerns about Mr. Atwood business but the Board should know that a garbage hauling business was also on the site.

Chair Majdalany asked for a motion to close the hearing.

Ivory moved to close the public hearing. Wise seconded. All were in favor.

Chair Majdalany asked the Board to make three required findings. First, whether or not the existing nonconforming use is legally preexisting. Second, whether or not the proposal is substantially more detrimental than the existing nonconforming use to the neighborhood. And third, whether or not the proposals benefits are not outweighed by adverse impacts.
McAlister stated it seems clear that the industrial use of the property is legally preexisting. All agreed.

Ivory stated that changing the use from metal to stone fabrication will not be substantially more detrimental than the existing nonconforming use to the neighborhood. All agreed.

The Board reviewed each of the special permit criteria of 10.4 and agreed that adverse impacts will not outweigh beneficial impacts.

Ivory moved, based on the findings, to grant the special permit. Meagher seconded.
